SOST invites you and your students to a FREE concert exploring space!

This year's program, Through the Telescope, takes a look at images from the Hubble Space Telescope and how music has interpreted space and its relationship to what the Hubble has uncovered. The heavens above have inspired artists, writers, and musicians for thousands of years. This concert, presented in collaboration with the Space Telescope Science Institute, features music by Wolfgang Mozart, James Lee III, Gustav Holst, John Williams, and more along with captivating visuals from the Hubble Space Telescope!

Maestro Chelsea Tipton II will lead the SOST in a live concert at the Julie Rogers Theatre. The concert will also feature our 2022 Concerto Competition winner!

This program is created for fifth grade students utilizing many of the key elements included in STARR testing, but all ages are welcome. We hope you'll take a morning adventure and join us by completing the form below.
