SOST invites you and your students to a FREE concert exploring notable images from history and how they relate to patterns, structure, and form in music!

Students will learn how music is comprised of patterns, the relationship between different elements of a particular work, and how that form is an essential aspect of music and art. Come explore how music plays a part in the visual arts as well as mathematics.

The concert will include music from Berlioz, Britten, Beethoven, Mozart, Ginastera, and Rossini.
